Under the provisions of the act of Congress approved February 21, 1871, a Territorial government was organized in the District of Columbia. Its results have been far from realizing the expectations of its advocates. Under the direction of the Territorial officers, a system of impressment has been adopted, which, in effect, of which Washington is rapidly becoming a city of the nation's capital. The citizens of the District, having voluntarily taxed themselves to a large amount for the purpose of contributing to the advancement of the seat of Government, I recommend liberal appropriations to the Treasury in the amount of $100,000 for the next year. This may be the just share of the expenses carrying out a judicious system of expenses.—President Grant's Message.

THE TRIUMPH.

The Tribune has this morning contained an article under the above caption, which was evidently written by the Presidential candidate himself. The point of it is this: The Cincinnati nominees will not withdraw, even if there should be a change of front at Philadelphia and Gen. Grant should withdraw.

The following letter to a Reform meeting shows what Mr. Greeley wishes to be considered outside of the Republican party: that he will remain in the field until the coils close; that he will make no effort and no sacrifice to heal the dissensions in the party, or to bring it once more together under the old flag. He has appeared on parade with us for the last time; we shall never again hear his words of command, of counsel, and of cheer; he will never again march with us to victory.

In view of this announcement we are not surprised to read in the same article that we are to have a new opportunity to ratify the nominations that were made at Cincinnati, i.e., to select him as their candidate in the coming campaign. "It is,"

he says, "barely possible that the Democratic will play the part assigned them by their inimplacable enemies; if we judged only from the recent past, we might almost pronounce it probable. But the indications from every side are unanimous and overwhelming

that we are confident that no intelligent, dispassionate observer would insure the nomination of a Bourbon Democratic ticket for less than ninety-five per cent. annum."

This sounds strange to hear Mr. Greeley in the Tribune, but it is true that the Democratic party is to follow this up in a singular embrace, of the number of whom he wishes it to be understood that he is not. It is only a few weeks ago that he told us in the same journal that "If the Democratic

that we are confident that no intelligent,

This total electoral vote is 357; necessary to a Major, 128. Of this number the Pitts-
